Las Becas

Hoy es el día en que la parroquia concede las becas dado por la Coalición de Paz y Educación. Así no sólo honramos a los estudiantes de College y de High School para que consigan sus sueños en lo académico sino también los sueños que guardan en sus corazones, especialmente aquellos sueños que, realizados, harán que la vida de los demás sea mejor. Estamos agradecidos por su esfuerzo en los estudios. Los sueños de esos estudiantes animan a los más pequeños, hacen posible que se oiga la voz de los que sufren y carecen de recursos, y de alguna manera hacen presente en nuestro barrio el reino de Dios. Un poco más de justicia y de paz para todos. Enhorabuena a todos los que hoy reciben su beca y gracias a todos ustedes por hacer de esta celebración del Día del Padre un día especial para todos nosotros que nos sentimos orgullosos de su estilo de vida. Aquí presentamos reflexiones de tres estudiantes.

"GIVING BACK"

"...Being involved has taught me that giving service is not be done with the intentions of getting something back. It has to be done with the intention of inspiring the younger generations to become leaders, creating a cycle of authentic service. Last year my involvement was higher than any other year but I still feel that I need to do more to give back to a community that has already given me the courage and knowledge to do what I am doing. I plan to keep being involved not for some years but for as long as my community needs me."

"The love of Christ impels us."

"El amor de Cristo se ha apoderado de nosotros"
- 2 Corintios 5: 14

"Volunteering in the Back of the Yards is one of the many things this community desperately needs. If we were all to unite and give a helping hand this community will rise. We, as I speak for all the residents in the Back of the Yards, have been living in a terrible cycle or decades. We need to break this cycle and help out our neighbors. I help out because I see struggle in the community and I love my community too much to say no. So many people leave without giving back when they were born and raised here. The Back of the Yards made them want to change for the better. I could never leave and not look back because the Back of the Yards made me into the person I am today. I most certainly believe if you do good, good shall come back to you."

"I have been a catechist for two years. As the 2013 -2014 religious year began I decided I had some goals I wanted to accomplish for my personal development. My goals were simple but not so easy, they included: to grow more in my faith, understanding, and sharing my love for children, to meet other catechists and lose my fear of public speaking. I really like children, they are so innocent and I believe I have the gift to teach children about God. My faith is strong but I want it to be stronger — like a rock that will never break...This year I did meet catechists my age who were strong in their faith just like me and we became good friends, so I did achieve this goal. The last goal was to feel more comfortable while speaking in front of the public....I just want to help my community as much as I can because I want it to become a better place for everyone to live in. If everyone shares their talent everything will be so much better in life."
